Scotland's leading Livestock Auctioneers and Procurement Specialists are seeking conscientious and self-disciplined team players to join the Yard and Operations function of our Group headquarters at Stirling Agricultural Centre

Yard Workers/Livestock Personnel

Candidates should be comfortable with working in a livestock environment and be willing to work long hours during seasonal peaks.

Applications from more experienced candidates, perhaps those who already have an agricultural background; shepherds, farm workers, stockmen etc., are particularly welcome, with the degree of responsibility and salary being dependent upon experience.

Agricultural Apprentice

This exceptional position will give the successful candidate the opportunity to gain Modern Apprenticeship in Agriculture accreditation through SRUC with other opportunities for continuing professional development thereafter.

Although varying degrees of experience will be considered you should be able to demonstrate an ability with potential and a desire to fulfil a role with long-term prospects.

Applications in the strictest confidence can be made in writing to:
Carolyn Murrie, Executive PA, United Auctions, Stirling Agricultural Centre,
Stirling, FK9 4RN.

Alternatively, informal enquiries can also be made by contacting:
