Scotland's Leading Livestock Auctioneers

Two exceptional opportunities to join Scotland's leading livestock auctioneers and procurement specialists

Livestock Auctioneer (Huntly and North of Scotland)

You are likely to have significant experience in a Livestock Marketing environment with a proven track record as a livestock auctioneer.

The position accompanies an attractive relocation allowance and provides the opportunity for continued professional development and further progression within the Group.

Sales Executive (Huntly)

Ideally you will already have begun your career and be a practising auctioneer who has experience with cattle and/or sheep. Alternatively, less experienced candidates who can demonstrate a desire to enter the livestock business or perhaps those who are looking to further their career in a more rewarding and challenging role will also be considered.

Applications in the strictest confidence can be made in writing to
